Khiladi No. 1

Top Three in ODI list:

1. MS Dhoni (Ind)	Pls 806	Avg 52.76	SR 103
2. Ricky Ponting (Aus)	805	42.74	79.34
3. Adam Gilchrist (Aus)	793	36.27	96.35

Mahendra Singh Dhoni was crowned the world's No.1 One-Day batsman on Thursday. The flamboyant wicketkeeper-batsman unseated Australia skipper Ricky Ponting in the ICC ODI player rankings after scoring 59 in the match against Pakistan in Abu Dhabi. There are two other Indian batsmen in the ICC top-10: Rahul Dravid at No. 9 and Yuvraj Singh at No. 10. Irfan Pathan ranks 3rd in the ODI all-rounders' list

Here we take a look at the top ten reasons why Dhoni is the new face of India...

- 1 Killer instinct: Because he believes in breaking rules and leading life his own way. In fact, he is a man with loads of aggression!
- 2 Fundoo: Because he is wild in his own way and knows to live life to the fullest. No strings attached!
- 3 Commoner is King! Because there's been no extra investment. In fact, he has proved that anyone can be a Dhoni!
- 4 Grounded! Because he has his feet firmly grounded... both on and off the field. Remember the fan following he lays claim to!
- 5 Fast and furious: Because speed mangta. His aggression, seen through his batting, is what sets him apart.
- 6 Dho dhale: Because he does or dies. He is a power hitter and can easily give competition to his rivals.
- 7 Style bhak: Because his long mane since symbolises revolution against set norms.
- 8 Temple of Dhoom! Because he dares to dream big. He is all set to buy the fastest bike in the world — a 1300cc Suzuki Hayabusa.
- 9 Raw Power: Because he has a savage tinge about him. He takes pride in hailing from small town, Ranchi.
- 10 Paisa vasool: Because he knows the value of money. He is paid for his job and he does that pretty well!

IGI to CP in 20 min flat

By Saurabh Sinha/TNN

New Delhi: Get ready for a truly European flying experience right here in Delhi. The company that runs the Frankfurt airport will begin revamping IGI next month. And, the airport could be connected to the city by a high-speed Metro link just like the premier Heathrow Express in London.

After getting a request from the Union civil aviation ministry, the Delhi Metro Rail Corp (DMRC) has begun preparing the blueprint for a high-fare, low-travel-time connection between the city centre and IGI airport. "We are preparing a detailed project report, on the lines of the Heathrow Express, for a route connecting New Delhi Station, Connaught Place and IGI. There would be check-in facilities at New Delhi and CP stations. The line will have very few stops between CP and IGI so that this 20-km distance can be covered in no more than 20 minutes," said DMRC's chief spokesperson Anuj Dayal.

This detailed project report would be given to the civil aviation ministry "very soon". If government clears this route, Dayal said, DMRC would like to complete it in time for the Commonwealth Games. The cheaper option of reaching IGI by the Metro could be the extended Dwarka line. "We have got clearance to go to sector 22 that's just 1.5 km from the airport. Since it is so close, it may be extended to be the regular train to IGI," said Dayal.

This twin service is like the London Tube in which the Piccadilly Line connects Heathrow to central London and one can reach Piccadilly Circus in 60 minutes. On the other hand, the non-stop Heathrow Express takes a passenger from the airport to central London (Paddington station) in just 15 mins.

Hen turns into a cock

Chicken that started life as an egg-laying hen has turned into a crowing cockerel

A sex-change chicken which started life as an egg-laying hen has turned into a crowing cockerel. The pet, called Freaky, spent eight months laying dozens of eggs until she crowed like a cock bird one morning. Over the next few weeks, she sprouted a scarlet comb, grew red flaps called wattles under her chin and tufty tail feathers — all attributes of cockerels.

Owner Jo Richards, of Saltford, near Bristol, said, "I've kept chickens for 10 years but I've never heard of such a thing." Several experts said Freaky's sex-change was a one-in-10,000 rarity. It happens when a damaged ovary causes the hen's testosterone levels to soar, turning the remaining ovary.

Freaky, a silver-faced Wyandotte hen, now crows every sunrise, aggressively attacks other males and even tries to mate with his old female friends. Victoria Roberts, of the Poultry Club of Great Britain, said, "This is very, very rare. I've been keeping poultry for 35 years and I've seen it only once."

SENSEX STRIKES 12

Mumbai: A Reliance story, every now and then, comes back to take the market to a new high. On Thursday, the overwhelming response to the Reliance Petroleum IPO helped the index rise for the first time past the 12k mark for the first time. Buoyed by a 144-point rally, the index closed at a new high of 12,040, while the day's high was at 12,054.

Taj Mahal goes to Pak

With Taj Mahal - An Eternal Love Story all set for release in Pakistan on April 28, we present an interview from the maker of the film, Akbar Khan

"I just feel on top of the world," exclaims filmmaker Akbar Khan. He adds, "The move to allow the screening of Taj Mahal - An Eternal Love Story would surely promote cultural exchanges as well as friendly ties between Pakistan and India." For the record, proceeds from the film will be donated to Pakistan for the victims of last year's earthquake. Pakistani Rs 6.5 million ($108.5 million) has already been given to the government. And the credit goes to "both the governments." States Khan, "PM Mamnoon Singh is sending a letter of friendship to Pakistani President Musharraf, courtesy the Union Tourism and Culture Minister Ambika Soni. Also, she will undertake a three-day visit to Pakistan on an invitation by the Pakistani government to attend the film's premier in Lahore on April 26."

release the film here in India." And what next? "Chengiz Khan. It will be the first ever-made English Bollywood movie that will be produced for Hollywood and Bollywood with talent from China, Iran and Mongolia for the film."
